VOL. XXI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1894.

NO. 94

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The House passed the bill to pay jurors in county courts—53 to 8.

The bill to make Sunday base ball playing a misdemeanor was reported adversely.

The House by a vote of 42 to 39 said it was opposed to paying for the scalps of foxes, wolves and wild cats.

Up to this time but one bill has been passed and signed by the governor, although nearly half of the session is gone.

With 25 days of a 60-day session gone and 25 bills before it, the assembly seems to be cutting off more than it can masticate.

The House thinks that the board of equalization is an unnecessary and expensive machine, so it voted 2 to 1 to abolish it.

A bill to create the useless office of bank examiner with a salary of $4,000, a deputy at $10 a day and a clerk at $1,800 is the effort of Statesman Letterie, of Louisville.

A bill was introduced in the Kentucky House of Representatives, the provisions of which practically give the Railroad Commission the power to fix freight rates in the State.

If the body is silly enough to pass such a bill it will be unlawful for any person to ring a bell on the streets for an auction, except in front of the house in which it is to be held, punishable by fine. Bill Beckner is the author of it.

Judge Beckner was speaking in behalf of his bill Wednesday, which makes it a penitentiary offense to destroy ownership marks on logs. Mr. Harvey Helm for the committee, which reported the bill adversely, said the reason was that the penalty was too severe, adding "the penalty is fitted for the crime of horse-stealing, and a log is not of that high order." Judge Beckner restored "It may not be with you bluegrass people, but it is with us mountain boys." Then he explained that some logs were more valuable than two or three ordinary horses.

HUBLE.

Miss Lulu Owsley opened school here Monday and the prospect for her success is encouraging.

Mr. Singleton, who moved to the Owsley form some days back, has rented the Givens land of B. W. Givens and will move to it soon.

Mrs. James Wilmot has a young turkey gobbler weighing 30 pounds and a young hen weighing 17 pounds. Both were hatched in June.

A big crowd and many candidates are expected at Catherine Blackerby's sale next Tuesday. Miss Kirby, of Lancaster, will be the auctioneer.

The wind blew down much fodder and the tops off of many hay stacks here Saturday. It also unrooted Mrs. Harris' corn crib and Wm. Hubble's jack stable.

Dr. Herrin reports Mrs. W. P. Bourne very sick with the grip. Mr. Green, the new blacksmith, has moved in. Misses Bettie and Annie Spoonamore are at home from school on account of the grip for a few days.

A TALE OF TWO LIVES.

Maiden fair,
Golden hair,
Languid air.
Dude red head,
Vows are said,
And they wed.
One year gone,
Baby bo'n,
Colic on.
Tack on floor,
Dude he awoke,
Oaths galore.
Solace takes,
Whisky shakes,
Green-eyed snakes;
Grave yard cold,
Widow bold,
Tale is told.

—E. T. S.

"So you do admit that you feel better for having gone to church?"

"Yes."

"Was it the music?"

"No."

"The sermon, then?"

"No! No! I worked off two plugged nickels I'd had for six months."—(Chicago Inter Ocean.)

A Wagner or Pullman car costs about $15,000, and yet there are men who, when they have paid $2 for a seat in one, act as if they owned it all.

There is more religion in a loaf of bread to a hungry man than in a car load of religious literature.—Baltimore World.

Irregularity.

Is that what troubles you? Then it's easily and promptly remedied by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They regulate the system perfectly. Take one for a gentle laxative or cathartic. If you suffer from constipation, indigestion, heart attacks, sick or bilious headaches, or a derangement of the liver, stomach or bowels, try these little pellets. They bring a permanent cure. Instead of shocking and shocking the system with violence, as the ordinary pills they act in a perfectly easy and natural way. They're the simplest, the easiest to take and the cheapest, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

Miss Gertrude Lester entertained a number of her young friends Thursday evening.

Col. Thos. O'Mara is on the sick list. Dr. J. S. Coyt, of Barbourville was here last week on business.

Rev. Black, of Ohio, preached two very interesting sermons at the Congregational church Sunday.

The district meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. will be held here Feb. 3 and 4, and we would be glad to have visiting delegates from all our neighboring societies.

James Bailey who had been tried twice for the murder of Rack Gordon and had had two hung juries, was discharged on motion of the commonwealth's attorney last week.

The property known as the Nease Academy was burned Saturday night. Mr. T. J. Mercer had converted it into a dwelling and was living in it. It is thought to be the work of an incendiary.

Some pleadings prepared by Justice Miller, late of the U. S. court, were on file which the court and bar agreed for the Filsom Club, of Louisville, to withdraw by leaving a copy. The papers were filed in 1846.

Mrs. K. D. Perkins is very ill with pneumonia. Mr. H. A. Whitsett, of Pennsylvania, is here visiting his brother, D. P. Whitsett. Mr. E. T. Hulsey and Judge W. O. Havis, of Louisville, were here attending court this week.

This county is considerably stirred up over the rape and hanging that took place Sunday. In addition to the facts reported to you Monday we cannot give many particulars. The crime was done and the negro hung. On Monday morning Squire Wm. Raines summoned a jury and held an inquest over the body and buried it near the place where it was found hanging. Judge Morrow called in his grand jury and gave them a very forcible instruction as to mobs and demanded that they give the case a most thorough investigation and told them if any member felt any prejudice in the matter so he could not indict the guilty parties he would excuse him and that he wanted no man to stay on that jury and perjure himself by failing to do his duty. It is the general impression that they will return some indictments as the sentiment in this country is very hard on mobs since they came so near hanging Len Tye for murder when he was evidently not guilty. It was a terrible crime and a like punishment is due the wretch but the juries of our county have the manhood enough to punish when the evidence warrants it.

Took a Receipt in Full.

Tywalker—Say, Raggie, what was all that fuss about I heard that dog making at the house back yonder?

Raggie—Oh, I had a little circus with a dog back there. The woman of the house set the dog on me.

Tywalker—Did he do you any great damage?

Raggie—Yes, he tore the seat of my pants out.

Tywalker—Well, what are you going to do about it?

Tywalker—How did you do that?

Raggie—I gave the dog one of my patent sausage makers—a dynamite button. All she's got to do is to kick the dog, the button does the rest. She'll think the dog star has bursted and it's raining dogs.

Tywalker—But how did you take a receipt?

Raggie—She had her Russian blouse out sunning and I scooped it in and will resew my pants with it when we go into camp to-night.—E. T. S., in Dallas Sandwich.

She ran upstairs ahead of me,
To catch a Harlem train;
No fault of mine that I should see
Her skirt raised from the rain.

She ran upstairs so very fast
That I—like any fellow—
Must see, as round the turn she passes—
Her garter bows were yellow. [ed]

"Where is the little girl that took the part of little Eva when you played here last season?"

Manager—Oh, she has a good, comfortable place in the Old Ladies' Home now.

If the Judges in the lynching districts would read the riot act to their grand juries like Judge Morrow did to the Whitley county grand jury Monday, the number of mobs would beautifully lessen.—Courier Journal.

There is a good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Dr. S. G. Hocke, of West Monterey, Clinton Co., Pa., says "it has cured us that our physicians could do nothing for." We pursued them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they now recommend with the rest of us" 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Dr. S. G. Hocke.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says, "it is indeed the easiest, the easiest to take and the cheapest, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned."

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Dye have gone to house-keeping.

Rev. M. A. Middleton preached at Grove Sunday. He will continue to preach there on the third Sunday in each month.

W. T. Durham went to Lawrenceburg Tuesday to see after his stave business.

Charles McWhorter who has been confined to his bed for several weeks with rheumatism is much improved. Mrs. J. G. Russell is wrestling with an attack of the grip.

John Delk and family and W. R. Delk, his brother, will take the train Monday for Arma, Texas, where they will reside in the future. John T. Lintheum, and family started Wednesday for Indiana, where they propose to make their future home.

If Peter Hampton wanted to be elected jailer he ought never to allow his ugly picture to have appeared in the INTERIOR JOURNAL last week. Pete is as jolly, clever fellow as ever lived, and if elected will make the best jailer Lincoln ever had, but for pure unadulterated ugliness he is not only entitled to the cake but should have the whole bakery, along with a few barrels of flour, and all necessary ingredients.

The school at McCormacks which has been so successfully taught by Miss Mary D. Carter closed a few days ago. It was an occasion of much interest to the pupils as they had been striving for three prizes—one of which had been offered by their teacher for attendance and punctuality, and Mr. A. W. Carpenter, a patron of the school, offered two others, one for the best boy in school and one for the best girl. Miss Carter, after an appropriate little address delivered the first prizes, a pretty writing-desk filled with stationery to Lizzie McBee. Mr. Carpenter then took the vote of the school as to who were entitled to the prizes he had offered, and after making a very impressive talk awarded two handsomely bound books, "The Gospel Story," to Harry Hill, and "The Child's Bible," to Maud Carter.

This is the letter Wile Howard wrote to his uncle and brother in the Eddyville, Ky., penitentiary a few days before he was hung:

Four Courts Jail, St. Louis, Mo., Wednesday night, Jan. 17, 1894.—Jennings and Howard, Eddyville, Ky.—Dear Uncle and Brother: This will be the last letter. I have not been taken away yet.

But I expect the Sheriff in the morning. I have not had any death watch set on me yet, as the law requires 48 hours before hanging. Berry went to Jeff City I have not heard from him yet. But I was in the papers to-night where the Governor refused to commute my sentence and says I hang Friday. So by the time you get this I will be no more.

I will make those affidavits for you tomorrow and send you in due form. Boys it is hard to have to die for a crime one did not commit as you know I am certainly innocent of this murder. But if you live to get out, which I think you will, I do not want you Boys to go to getting in more trouble looking for revenge; it is useless, and then it would not bring me back. Go some place where you can live a quiet life and be at peace with all. Most fellows will soon look up new enemies to fight with so for God's sake keep away from them and lead an honest and upright life. Well, a long letter is useless and nothing I could say would be of any benefit to either of us, so I will close forever, wishing and hoping to meet you both in the happy land of rest where all is peace. Farewell forever. WILSON B. HOWARD.

Drake—I have bad news for you, old man.

Willis—Heavens! What is it?

Drake—Your wife has left you.

She ran upstairs so very fast

That I—like any fellow—

Must see, as round the turn she passes—

Her garter bows were yellow. [ed]

CORBETT STILL THE CHAMPION.

He Knocks Out Mitchell in the 3rd Round.

And it Took Him Only Nine Minutes to do it.

The Duvall Athletic Club secured an injunction restraining the sheriff from interfering with the Corbett-Mitchell fight and it was called at Jacksonville, Fla., at 2:20 o'clock yesterday. The city was full of sports and the betting was three to one on Corbett. The judge granted an injunction because he could find no law prohibiting such fights. Gov. Mitchell was consequently knocked out and had to recall his militia.

Through the kindness of Chief Train dispatcher W. F. Sheridan and his clever assistant, L. M. Westerfield, who had a special wire connected with the direct line to Jacksonville, we are enabled to give the result of the fight for the championship of the world, hours in advance of any paper in this section. The fight was of short duration, Corbett knocking out his man in the 3d round and doing it in nine minutes from the time the fight was called. Besides the championship Corbett gets $30,000.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 25, 2 p. m.—

Fully 20,000 people present.

2:10: A carriage has just been driven up and the excitement is at fever heat. When it was known that it was Corbett the spectators arose as one man, greeted him with tumultuous applause as he stepped on the platform and shook hands with Billy Madden.

2:20: Putting on gloves. Corbett and Mitchell shake hands.

2:27: They are at it now.

Following is the fight by rounds:

1st ROUND:—Dancing around. Corbett leads with left on Mitchell's chin. They clinch and exchange body blows and Jim reaches Charley's left eye. Another exchange and Mitchell clinches. Mitchell gets in on Corbett's neck, and Jim lands right just as time was called. Mitchell landed a good body blow. Honors even in first round. It looks like it was going to be a wicked fight.

2d: A wild exchange and a clinch. Corbett's upper cuts his man as they come together. Mitchell lands a hard on ribs and as Mitchell came in Jim caught him on the head, staggering him. Corbett's upper cuts Mitchell again and lands with right on Charley's ribs, Mitchell reaching Corbett's chin. Sharp rally and Corbett doors his man cleverly and knocked him down as he essayed to rise. Time saves Mitchell.

Miss Sarah C. Veal and R. L. Oelz, a young attorney of Cloverport, were married Wednesday.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., JANUARY 26, 1894

W. P. WALTON.

6 OR 8 PAGES. EVERY FRIDAY.

BOUTELLE continues to go into convulsions every time the Hawaiian question is mentioned in Congress. He is the special representative of Minister Stevens, who was no doubt well paid for making the revolution possible in Hawaii, with the U. S. forces, which have no right to land on a foreign shore, except to protect Americans. The last exhibition of the roaring, ringed-tail nuisance was of such a character that the sergeant-at-arms had to awe him with the mace before his belligerency could be subdued. It is wonderful what a soothing effect the mace, or as it is more irrevocably called, the goose, has upon obstreperous members. It has rarely ever to be used, most men being willing to submit to the rulings of the Speaker. Our John D. White, it will be remembered, made a spectacular exhibition of himself and had it held up before him, when he quietly went into his hole and drew it in after him.

Gov. McCREEARY, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, has introduced a resolution defining the attitude of Congress towards Hawaii, which should be the sentiment of every patriotic American. It condemns the action of Minister Stevens in employing the U. S. naval forces, contrary to the traditions of our Republic and spirit of the constitution, and illegally aiding the overthrow of the constituted government of Hawaii, and approves of the principle announced by the president of non-interference in the domestic affairs of an independent nation. The annexation of the islands to the U. S. or the establishment of a protectorate over them, is both uncalled for and inexpedient and the people of that country should be permitted to pursue their own line of policy, and their political affairs should not be regarded by the U. S. This ought to cover the question and settle it now and finally.

Mr. BECKNER, of Clark, continues to prove that his parents gave him the right name when they dubbed him "Bill." It's a cold day when he hasn't several bills to present to the House and if he doesn't mind, he'll soon be regarded as great a nuisance as the "late" Tom Pettit. Among Bill Beckner's latest budget of bills is one to provide for a commission to select a site for the capital buildings at Frankfort and get up plans and specifications for them. Of the number named for the commission are Govs. Buckner, Knott and Hindman, Henry Watterson and Col. W. O. Bradley, and they are to receive $5 a day when actually engaged.

SENATOR DYCHE does not seem to know that the severer the penalty the harder it is to inflict. The law against carrying concealed weapons is sufficiently severe. The only trouble is that the courts do not inflict the punishment. If a man is convicted of the offense and has the money to pay the fine the imprisonment part of the sentence is always suspended and that is the last of it. To make the penalty six months in the penitentiary, as Mr. Dyche proposes, would result in the entire evasion of the law which would only be applied in cases where the defendant is too poor to hire lawyers or suborn testimony.

THE president has sent in another objectionable nomination for associate justice, according to Senator Hill and others. This time it is charged that the appointee, W. H. Peckham, is a mugwump, who rarely votes for the democratic ticket. If this is so it may be well enough to let him go keep company with Hornblower.

WHEN Senator Berry said in the discussion of the civil service law that it was a regular party machine, which had been used to keep the republicans in office, he expressed the sentiments of nine-tenths of the democrats of the country. The law is a delusion and a snare to the boys in the trenches.

THE House evidently thinks that Auditor Norman is a better judge of the situation than Gov. Brown. The one said that the State rate tax could not be reduced without producing a deficit, the other that it could. The bill to reduce it to 40 cents was refused a second reading.

JEHU BAKER has published a card stigmatizing the statement of Breckinridge that the seat of William R. Morrison was taken from him by bribery as a base and unmitigated lie. So it seems that the silver tongued is likely to have a fight, with his already heavy load of a $50,000 damage suit for seduction.

THE Frankfort Capital has a new head which is a big improvement on the cumbersome old concern that formerly took up nearly half of the first page. The paper has long needed a new head, but its editor does not. He needs new hair only, but he needs it like the man needs a pistol in Texas.

JUDGE MORROW gave his opinion of mobs in a special charge to the grand jury at Williamsburg, and when it is remembered that he himself has felt their cowardly and menacing clamor it is not surprising that he loathes and despises them, as does every law living citizen. The curse of the South is the frequent resort to such means of punishing crime, which makes criminals of all who take part in it:

The Wilson bill provides for a gradual repeal of the sugar bounty clause of the McKinley bill, which will this year take $15,000,000 out of the treasury, with little warrant or excuse, but the House voted Tuesday to repeal it at once and make the raw material free. It also voted to make coal free. The tendency of this country is towards free trade and we are surely, if slowly, getting there.

From the number of bills to regulate and harass railroads that have been presented in the Legislature, some of its members, at least, are anxious for a railroad lobby to come and stay with them. They evidently begin to feel a need of such stimulants as free whisky and free cigars, not to say something of a less evanescent nature.

SOME fool has presented a bill to the Legislature to give the railroad companies the power to fix freight rates. There is always some idiot ready to follow any suggestion no matter how impracticable it may be.

NEWSY NOTES.

—There are 68,806 post-offices in the United States.

—Cloverport pays its Mayor a salary of one dollar per month.

—Hon. C. H. Buhl, the wealthiest citizen of Detroit, Mich., is dead.

—Cash Clay, Jr., has publicly announced that he will be a candidate for governor next time.

—After a trial of 15 years, local option was knocked out in Louisa, Ky., by a majority of 15.

—John S. Vimont, aged 95, the oldest and wealthiest citizen of Millersburg, is dead. He leaves one child.

—The Owen News has espoused the cause of Congressman Breckinridge against its countryman, Hon. Evan Settle.

—John Carson, of Bristol, Penn., went to bed with a lighted pipe in his mouth, fell asleep and burned to death.

—William Reeder, aged 24, was shot and killed at Barbourville by Policeman James Bowman, while resisting arrest for disorderly conduct.

—The cold wave covers the country from the Northwest to Florida. The mercury is 40° to 50° below zero in points in the Northwest.

—Grant Rice and John Davis, young men of respectable parentage, have been arrested for robbing the express office at Wasilla, Bell county, of $200.

—Bryce Stewart, the wealthiest man in Middle Tennessee, died at Clarksville. Before the war he was the most extensive tobacco dealer in the South.

—The attempt in the House of Kentucky General Assembly to repeal the separate coach law was defeated by a vote of twenty-two to sixty-one.

—Eleven-year-old Lawrence Thompson, of Milton, Ind., shot himself through the head while asleep. He died almost instantly. Thompson was a somnambulist.

—Fifty convicts escaped from the stockade at Coal Creek, Tenn., by crawling through a water gate. Some few were shot or captured, but many are still at large.

—Notwithstanding the hard times the Chesapeake & Ohio is booming right along. Its earnings so far this month have been $56,015 over the same time last year.

—The Hon. Will T. Cox, of Bowling Green, one of the ablest and most prominent young attorneys in the State, died at Ocala, Fla., where he had been several months for his health.

—Near Greensburg, seven persons were bitten by a cat afflicted with hydrophobia. Among those bitten was C. P. Fagg, who died in great agony after suffering all the horrors of rabies.

—Over 100 buildings in Oak Cliff, Dallas, Dallas and East Dallas, Texas, were destroyed by a cyclone. One boy was killed and several people injured. The damage is estimated at about $100,000.

—John L. Sullivan says that Corbett will win the fight with Mitchell. He also states that he will challenge the winner for the largest purse ever offered by any club and for the World's championship.

—L. N. Odell, an aeronaut, attempted to descend from a balloon by a parachute at Washington, N. C., but it failed to work and he was dashed 300 feet to the earth, mauling him beyond recognition.

—Declaring that he does not stand with Senators George and Waithall in their course regarding the silver bill, Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, has withdrawn from the race for United States Senator.

—The full ways and means committee has voted to report the internal revenue bill including the income tax. The vote was 9 to 8. All the republicans and Messrs. Cochran and Stevens voted in the negative.

—Leslie Combs, of Fayette, had 370 acres of tobacco last year, but raised only a medium crop, something like 50,000 pounds. The first hogshead he sold brought $19 per hundred and the crop will average $10.

—Mr. Carlisle says that the deficit in the revenue this year will amount to $78,000,000.

—This is a sad time for the unemployed. Insufficient clothing and food do not mate well with zero weather and no coal. It is well to know that everything possible is being done to help the sufferers.

—At Louisville John Shibley, a carriage trimmer, committed suicide by jumping into the canal. A rope was thrown to him, but he shoved it away. He drowned himself because he was unable to secure employment.

—The sugar bounty provision of the Wilson Tariff Bill was abolished by the National House Tuesday, the vote standing yeas 135, nays 69, and the amendment adopted being that offered by Mr. McRae, of Arkansas.

—There was animated discussion in the Senate over a resolution declaring it to be unwise and inexpedient to consider the project of annexing the Hawaiian territory to the United States. No action was taken on the resolution.

—The new engineering laboratory of Pavilion Hall, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., just completed and delivered to Gov. Matthews for the State and dedicated only last Friday, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night, at a loss of $180,000.

—Robt. J. Jewel, of Elk Creek, is the oldest postmaster in the State, having died since 1856. He served under Buchanan, Lincoln, Johnson, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland and Harrison and is now serving under Cleveland.

—The penitentiary at Frankfort issued to be too small for its present and constantly growing population. Warden George recommends the addition to the inclosure of six acres of land adjoining the institution and belonging to the State.

—The properties of the Sheffield (Ala.) Land, Coal and Iron Company, embracing large tracts of mineral lands, were sold at auction to J. H. Noble, for $35,000. This was another of the boom companies which had a capital of a million or more.

—J. S. Johnson skated a quarter of a mile on Lake Mendota, Wis., in 314 seconds, flying start, thus beating Donohue's record of 35 seconds, standing start. The difference in starts leaves Johnson's time 1 1/2 seconds better than Donohue's.

—The steamer Normannia, which sailed from New York last Thursday for Genoa, encountered a terrific gale and tidal wave 750 miles out and was compelled to return to port. The damages will amount to $75,000 or $100,000, $50,000 worth of tobacco being ruined.

—Ten thousand men, usually employed in the canning houses and other branches of the oyster business of Baltimore, are now out of work, and the price of oysters has declined to 45 cents and lower a bushel. This time a year ago the price ranged at over $2 a bushel.

—Two weeks ago Jack Rogers, a very wealthy but eccentric farmer of Mercer, having no confidence in banks, placed $4,000 in a barrel of shelled corn in his barn. Tuesday on visiting the barn he almost became distracted when he discovered that some one had taken his wealth.

—They have pretty bold thieves in Paris. A couple of negroes broke open a car load of hogs and had gotten two out when discovered by the night watchman. They ran, but returned and shot him, afterwards taking the hogs away. The next day they were found in the house of one of them and the thieves arrested.

—A dispatch says that Gillis Johnson, brother-in-law of Bob Marler to be hung at Pineville February 9, had a number of Winchester rifles shipped to him at Roost. He has threatened to rescue Marler. He is the leader of a gang of outlaws, and the authorities are fearful an attack will be made on the jail.

—There are giants even in this days. Boss Skaggs, of Lawrence county, is 32 years old and is 6 feet 9 inches in height, girth 5 feet 6 inches around the waist, 30 inches around the thigh, 24 inches around the arm and 19 inches around the neck. It requires 9 yards of jeans to make him a coat and 6 yards to make him a pair of pants.

—The town of Fort Payne, Ala., has gone the way of other boom properties, being sold to E. N. Cullom, a Birmingham capitalist, for the sum of $60,000. The purchaser assumed a mortgage of $360,000. The property includes 30,000 acres of mineral lands, rolling mill, furnaces, etc., said to have cost New England capitalists several million dollars.

—In the Campbell County Court at Newport, the United States Trust Company filed a mortgage of $7,500,000 to the New York Trust Company, covering all the assets of the National Cordage Company. The mortgage was filed to secure money borrowed by the United States Trust Company, received for the Cordage Company, from the New York Trust Company.

—The nomination by President Cleveland of Wheeler H. Peckham, of New York, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme bench, will be opposed in the Senate by Mr. Hill and other democratic Senators, who criticize and condemn the selection. The objections urged against Mr. Peckham are that he is not a democrat and has voted against the regular democratic ticket in New York during the past ten years. It is said the republican Senators will be for him, and it is thought the nomination will be confirmed.

—Declaring that he does not stand with Senators George and Waithall in their course regarding the silver bill, Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, has withdrawn from the race for United States Senator.

—The full ways and means committee has voted to report the internal revenue bill including the income tax. The vote was 9 to 8. All the republicans and Messrs. Cochran and Stevens voted in the negative.

—Leslie Combs, of Fayette, had 370 acres of tobacco last year, but raised only a medium crop, something like 50,000 pounds. The first hogshead he sold brought $19 per hundred and the crop will average $10.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—A very large crowd attended county court Monday but business was rather dull.

—The Busy World says that "Yale has made a gain of 243 students over last year's total, and the future of football looks bright."

—Mr. Lewis Walker has taken the position of solicitor and local editor of the Central Record. He is an excellent young gentleman and thoroughly qualified for the place.

—Daniel Webster, when making a political speech, was asked, "What about the public debt?" "The public debt" said Mr. Webster, "How much is it? Let me know and I will pay it off!"

—The uniform rank, Knights of Phrygia, is drilling every week, preparing to go to the national encampment at Washington in August. This order has work at nearly every meeting and is growing with wonderful rapidity.

—The pensioners next regular "draw day," the 4th, comes on Sunday, and they will have to execute their vouchers on Monday the 5th. If signed and sworn to before that date, they will be returned by the agent at Louisville.

—The able, eloquent and fearless charge to the Whitley county grand jury by Judge Thomas Z. Morrow, in regard to mobs, eminently deserves the commendation of every good citizen of the Commonwealth. It comes at the right time and will have its effect, not only in Whitley, but in every county in the State.

—For the "beautiful snow" and the change in the weather, let us all give thanks. It will doubtless save the fruit and protect the wheat, insuring good crops of every kind. It is said that an excellent way to keep the fruit trees from budding prematurely and being killed by the frost is to pile up the snow in heaps around the roots. And now it is hoped we may say "good-bye" to the grip, with an ardent prayer that so pestiferous a disease may never return.

—It is very much regretted that Mr. Hart in his bill for the protection of birds has omitted the blue jay, the tom-tit, the wren and the sapsucker. True, these birds are somewhat scarce, but they are entitled to as much respect as the swallow and woodpecker. Provision ought to be made for the wholesale destruction of the English sparrow that has become as great a nuisance as the ant and potato bug. The trouble, however, is not so much in the passage of laws as in their enforcement. There is a certain class that have no respect for any law that interferes with their inclinations, and when they want to hunt they do not hesitate to do so, law or no law, and take the chances as to prosecution and punishment.

—The races were postponed at Hot Springs, Ark., owing to the fact that the people could not reach the club grounds, the cars being stopped by half an inch of frozen sleet on the tracks.

—The president, cashier and chief clerk of the New Farmers Bank at Mt. Sterling have been indicted for receiving deposits after they knew the bank was insolvent. It broke during the panic.

—Thomas Platt, of Knox county, received a minnie ball in one of his legs at the battle of Shilo in 1863 and up till a few days ago it gave him no trouble. It began to bother him then and it was necessary to extract it.

—They have pretty bold thieves in Paris. A couple of negroes broke open a car load of hogs and had gotten two out when discovered by the night watchman.

—The next day they were found in the house of one of them and the thieves arrested.

—A dispatch says that Gillis Johnson, brother-in-law of Bob Marler to be hung at Pineville February 9, had a number of Winchester rifles shipped to him at Roost.

—He has threatened to rescue Marler. He is the leader of a gang of outlaws, and the authorities are fearful an attack will be made on the jail.

—There are giants even in this days. Boss Skaggs, of Lawrence county, is 32 years old and is 6 feet 9 inches in height, girth 5 feet 6 inches around the waist, 30 inches around the thigh, 24 inches around the arm and 19 inches around the neck. It requires 9 yards of jeans to make him a coat and 6 yards to make him a pair of pants.

—The pretty young lady May choose her own man, But maids old and shady Must catch as catch can.

—SAXBY'S QUERIES TO INGERSOLL.—This beautiful song (words and music regular sheet music size) will be mailed to anyone enclosing 5c in stamps to D. G. Edwards, General Passenger Agent, C. H. & D. R. R., Cincinnati, Ohio.

—The Electropoise has given perfect satisfaction in both cases, one neuralgia the other rheumatism, and the results have been perfectly wonderful.

—Richard J. Whelan, Bardstown, Ky. Thanks to the Electropoise for what it has done for me and my family. It has cured indigestion and liver trouble, besides giving almost instant relief for toothache.

—Carlisie, Ky. I have used the Electropoise in my family from one month to 72 years, always to the baby one year old with the happiest results in all cases. Several of my neighbors have them and are well pleased. Everybody should have one.

—F. M. Callahan, Verona, Ky. To me the work of the Electropoise is a mystery—almost a miracle.

—Rev. J. I. Rodgers, Danville, Ky.

The Electropoise has cured me of asthma and kidney trouble. I. V. Vacum, Taylorville, Ky.

I was wonderfully pleased with the Electropoise and would not be without it for any consideration. It has done a world of good for me already.

—Mrs. Jonathan Reid, Knob Lick, Ky.

Money could not buy the Electropoise from me.

NOTHING is more disagreeable than to shake the sweaty, clammy hand of a man or woman. Those who have such hands should bathe them in a hot infusion of white oak bark several times daily, and thus rid themselves of the annoying disease.

THE pugilists, Corbett Hubbard and Mitchell Carson should have been permitted to have fought to a finish. They are no kin and a sensation of some kind would relieve the town of an accumulation of dreary dullness that prevails almost to stagnation.

DR. J. F. PRYTON, assisted by Dr. J. G. Carpenter, of this place, and the local doctors, performed the operation of ovariotomy on Mrs. J. K. McClary on Wall street and has $9,000,000 in her own right.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Arch Ragland a love sick youth of 18, who lived in Clark, shot himself through the heart because his father would not let him marry.

—Rev. George Baker, pastor of the Baptist church at Jellico, and known in this section, where he preaches occasionally, was married on Wednesday to Miss Marie Smith, of Newcomb, Tenn.

—The announcement of the engagement of Miss Anna Gould to W. S. Harriman has been made. The prospective bride is a daughter of the late Wizard of Wall street and has $9,000,000 in her own right.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. W. E. Arnold will preach Sunday morning on the Perpetuation and Extension of the Revival Work, and asks all of the members to be present.

—Feb. 4th is Christian Endeavor day throughout the world. The society is now 13 years old and numbers 28,741 societies and 1,724,400 members, and is a power, startling and wonderful in its results for good.

—Squire E. B. Caldwell, Jr., writes us that Eld. J. C. Perkins has located at Waynesburg and is holding a protracted meeting there, which had resulted in 48 additions to the 24th. The crowds are large and a wide spread interest is manifested.

—The N. Y. Sun says that it has been discovered that there is a shortage of at least $21,000 in the accounts of John H. Wood, who was, up to a year ago, Treasurer of the Brooklyn Tabernacle. Probably this accounts for Dr. Talmage's statement that he would resign on his 25th anniversary with the tabernacle.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Nellie A., only 2-years-old, has won over $15,000.

—Sixty-two 2:15 performers have been bred in Kentucky.

—Dad Newland sold to Bob Smith a pair of oxen for $59.

—Latonia will likely add $10,000 to its Derby purse, making it the richest ever run in Kentucky.

—A Bourbon county woman sold $111 worth of turkeys, $28 of eggs, $18 of butter and $17 of chickens last year.

—G. T. Higginbotham who recently bought a farm in Fayette, rented 15 acres of it to go in tobacco at $50 per acre.

—Col. F. M. Wood, of Lincoln, Neb., sold seventy-five Poland-Chinas, (a number of them August and September pigs,) at an average of $43.

—The Democrat says Clark county raised 6,000,000 pounds of tobacco last year. The taxable property of the county is assessed at $10,000,000.

—A farmer at Hutchison, from the produce of four sows, has, in one year, sold $900 worth of hogs, killed ten for meat and has now ten sows left.

—Anderson Carr has entered his speedy mare, Nancy Carr, 2:25, in Rue & Faulconer's sale at Danville next week. He will be sadly disappointed if she does not bring $1,000 or over.

—Mat Cohen, who has been handling horses for J. W. Bales, of Madison, has rented the fair grounds at Richmond and set up for himself. He is beyond doubt the best saddle horse man in the State age considered.

—Jos. A. Cohen bought of Chas. Wilson 75 hogs, averaging 250 pounds at 49c. Mr. J. R. Walker bought in Chicago 280 head of Illinois steers, of about 1,140 pounds. They are to be fed slop and cost here something over 3 cents.—Anderson News.

—The Coney Island Jockey Club has decided that it will not become a member of the new jockey club under the rules formulated for the proposed organization. In consequence, it is said, certain members of the new jockey club are endeavoring to have the Coney Island track practically boycotted.

—As administrator of Mrs. Catherine Blackerty, I will sell at public auction on Tuesday, Jan. 30th, her personal property to-wit: Horses, cows, mules, mule carts, horse colts, sheep, poultry, hogs, farming implements, hay, barley, corn and wheat, also household and kitchen furniture. Terms made known on day of sale. Joel J. Walker, administrator.

—The press association will meet in Frankfort June 6-8.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—The board of supervisors of tax list found $35,953 of property omitted from assessor's list.

—Mrs. Burk, who was so badly wounded, 10 days since, is yet in a precarious condition.

—Messrs. Shafer and Walters, of Jamestown, N. Y., are here with a view to locating a stave factory.

—More interest is being manifested in schools here than for years. Four are in session now in this place.

—The new public well in Williams' addition has been sunk to a depth of 26 feet, where fine stream was found.

—We have received a copy of the Knox County News edited by Mr. Y. G. Freeman. If he continues in the line he has started out on he should succeed.

—A few years since a detective spotted Editor Smith, of the Signal, for Wils Howard and was on the point of taking him when some one told him of his error.

—When Willis French left here for the West in 1865 via the Nicholasville stage line his fare to St. Louis was $45. The fare he paid from this place to the above point yesterday on his return West was $11.87.

—Conductor Tom Adams is home for a few days. Mr. James Robison, of Middlesboro, was here Tuesday. This is not his first trip here either. W. A. Parsley the "hat man" and D. M. Williams the "shoe man," of Taylor, was with us Wednesday.

—Dr. Peyton assisted by Drs. Lovell, Carpenter, J. M. Williams, J. J. and E. J. Brown successfully performed the operation of ovariotomy upon Mrs. J. K. McClary, Monday morning, removing a tumor weighing 45 pounds or more. The patient is getting along nicely with every prospect of recovery. The patient's fortitude under the trying ordeal was most remarkable. Everybody is hoping for the speedy recovery of this noble woman.

—W. M. McGuffey has moved to Maywood. Miss Maggie Spradlin is getting up a class in German. Mr. W. F. McClary, of your place, was here with his cousin, J. K. McClary. Capt. Evans, who has been so low with pneumonia, is able to be about. Hugh Miller is reading medicine under the Drs. Brown, S. L. Whitehead, of Big Stone Gap, is here for a few days. "Colonel of the Road" Sam Ward left for home Wednesday, after succeeding with the other members of the board of supervisors in raising the assessment of the county $18,000.

LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.

For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try S.S.S. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever. — J. A. RICE, Ottawa, Kan.

HOW TO BE STRONG.

THE MOST POWERFUL MAN ON EARTH GIVES ADVICE.

Eugen Sandow Thinks Physical and Mental Decay Go Together—He Does Not Advise Hard Training—The Gospel of Moderation—The Best Exercise.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A sound mind goes with a sound body. It was Horace, I believe, who uttered this aphorism 2,000 years ago. The same rule holds good today. The two are inseparable concomitants. A man or woman to attain the zenith of intellectual power must be at his or her best physically. The world is full of proofs of this truism. Two cases in point will suffice. Bismarck, the grand old man of the Fatherland, began to show signs of mental decay 10 years ago, when he was overtaken by kidney and liver troubles, brought on by inertia and excessive indulgence in food and drink. When he remedied these by medical treatment and a judicious amount of daily exercise, he quickly regained his intellectual vitality.

So, too, with your own renowned statesman, the late James G. Blaine. He displayed the greatest breadth of mind when his physical powers were the greatest. When they began to wane, his mental strength began to sap. Mind you, there are weak and even sick men and women who possess remarkable intellectual vigor. They are generally those whose cerebral qualities—always greater from birth—develop at the expense of their physical ones. I rigidly maintain, however, that if in these cases the body was equally attuned with the mind from childhood their brain expansion would be all the greater.

How can health be acquired? Simply by observing the laws of nature. Eat, drink, sleep, walk, run and exercise in moderation—in other words, train, not as fighters and jockeys do, but as God intended you should do. The boxer and the rider go through fearful and arduous exercise for a few weeks to prepare themselves for a contest of skill and endurance which may last a minute or a day. My advice to you, my fellow men and women, is to train lightly and constantly to prepare you, not for one fleeting contest, but for the enduring battle of life. Train properly, then, to get strong, for strength is health, and health is intellectual power, and the last named attribute, as we all know, conquers success in life.

How will you gain strength and its accompanying blessings? I will tell you as pithily and succinctly as I can and not follow the rule of many authorities on training, who confuse instead of enlighten.

"Waah, Mistah Cah, I want an orange fur 2 cents. When I git home wid it, I shall say to my little gal: 'Heah, Fanny, see what a magniforous orange I has dun brought yo' home. I got it from a white gem'lan named Mistah Cah, and he dun split 3 cents off de price kase yo' was sick in bed. Pray fur dat Mistah Cah, Fanny—pray dat he dun go straight to paradise when he dies."

"Go on and don't bother me!" replied the orange man.

"Two cents for an orange?"

"No—5."

"Not fur Fanny?"

"No, sir."

"All right, sah—all right, Mistah Cah. If yo' doan' dun want to go to paradise fur 3 cents, den yo' kin stay out an be hanged to yo', but de price won't neber be no cheaper, an' yo' kin bet a hat on dat. Good day, sah—good day, Mistah Cah."

—On Compton.

One morning Jerrold and Compton proceeded together to view the pictures in the gallery of illustration. On entering the anteroom they found themselves opposite to a number of very long looking glasses. Pausing before one of these, Compton pointed to Jerrold: "You've come here to admire works of art. Very well, first feast your eyes on that work of nature," pointing to his own figure reflected in the glass; "look at it! There's a picture for you!"

"Yes," said Jerrold, regarding it intently, "very fine—very fine indeed." Then, turning to his friend, "Wants hanging, though."—Argonaut.

Over-work is worse than no work at all. Your own feelings will tell you when to quit.

Above all things, join some gymnasium or athletic club. To your outdoor exercise add that of light dumbbells in your indoor work. Be careful not to touch heavy bells out of any feeling of rivalry or false pride and essay feats you see others you think your inferiors performing. They are built up. You are not. The lighter the bells you try the better. From two ounces to two pounds will do. Use the simplest motions—backward, forward, sideways and every other way. Any athletic instructor can teach you them all in short order. Stop when tired and resume when you are fully recuperated. Do not go in too strong at first. You can increase the amount of your work when you feel yourself growing stronger. You should always feel invigorated and not weak after exercise. If you experience the latter sensation, you may be sure you have piled on too much work. This is the great danger to be avoided. If you do not avoid it, you will grow weaker instead of stronger.

If you thus maintain a constant and systematic use of light dumbbells, directed to the development of the body as a whole, in addition to following the other instructions I have imparted, I will guarantee that in a year you will be bigger in brain and body and will have no use for physicians or physicians. And note the fact that by keeping up the good work throughout life you will become bigger, better, brainier and healthier every year.

NOT FIT.

A former governor of Kentucky used to tell some good stories about his experiences in canvassing the state previous to his election to that office. One day he stopped at a small, weather beaten house about noon, and the mistress of the place brought forth for his delectation a huckleberry pie of generous dimensions and most excellent taste.

"Why, madam," said the would be governor after he had taken in a few mouthfuls with evident relish, "this is a most delicious pie. And may I ask what the fruit is which has such a pleasant flavor?"

"Sho, now," said the woman, beaming with gratification, "I reckon you don't need to ask me that! I reckon you know what's in that pie without me tellin' you."

"Indeed I must plead ignorance," replied her guest, "The taste is unfamiliar to me."

"Well, I declare!" ejaculated the woman. "Don't you raise huckleberries in your part o' the kentry? Ain't you acquainted with 'em?"

"It may be," replied her guest, smiling, "but I have never eaten a huckleberry pie before."

"Well," she said in evident amazement, "I dunno about you. Up for governor and don't know huckleberries! I mistrust you ain't fitted for office."

And with a dubious shake of her head she cut a second quarter of the pie for the disqualification candidate.—Youth's Companion.

A man who was peddling oranges from a basket on Monroe avenue the other day was stopped by an old colored man, who asked:

"Kin I hev one of dem oranges fur 2 cents, boss?"

"No, sir. The price is 5."

"Dat's de price fur well folks. I wants an orange fur my little gal Fanny, who's sick abed an am die."

"Five cents is the price, sir."

"What is yo' name, sah?"

"Carr is my name. Who takes the next sweet orange for 5 cents?"

"Waah, Mistah Cah, I want an orange fur 2 cents. When I git home wid it, I shall say to my little gal: 'Heah, Fanny, see what a magniforous orange I has dun brought yo' home. I got it from a white gem'lan named Mistah Cah, and he dun split 3 cents off de price kase yo' was sick in bed. Pray fur dat Mistah Cah, Fanny—pray dat he dun go straight to paradise when he dies."

One morning Jerrold and Compton proceeded together to view the pictures in the gallery of illustration. On entering the anteroom they found themselves opposite to a number of very long looking glasses. Pausing before one of these, Compton pointed to Jerrold: "You've come here to admire works of art. Very well, first feast your eyes on that work of nature," pointing to his own figure reflected in the glass; "look at it! There's a picture for you!"

"Yes," said Jerrold, regarding it intently, "very fine—very fine indeed." Then, turning to his friend, "Wants hanging, though."—Argonaut.

Over-work is worse than no work at all. Your own feelings will tell you when to quit.

Above all things, join some gymnasium or athletic club. To your outdoor exercise add that of light dumbbells in your indoor work. Be careful not to touch heavy bells out of any feeling of rivalry or false pride and essay feats you see others you think your inferiors performing. They are built up. You are not. The lighter the bells you try the better. From two ounces to two pounds will do. Use the simplest motions—backward, forward, sideways and every other way. Any athletic instructor can teach you them all in short order. Stop when tired and resume when you are fully recuperated. Do not go in too strong at first. You can increase the amount of your work when you feel yourself growing stronger. You should always feel invigorated and not weak after exercise. If you experience the latter sensation, you may be sure you have piled on too much work. This is the great danger to be avoided. If you do not avoid it, you will grow weaker instead of stronger.

If you thus maintain a constant and systematic use of light dumbbells, directed to the development of the body as a whole, in addition to following the other instructions I have imparted, I will guarantee that in a year you will be bigger in brain and body and will have no use for physicians or physicians. And note the fact that by keeping up the good work throughout life you will become bigger, better, brainier and healthier every year.

A Mean Man.

"My dear," said Mr. Sowerby to his wife, "I wish you would have some of these dumplings of yours when Mr. Teale is here to dinner."

"I thought you didn't like Mr. Teale, love," replied Mrs. Sowerby sweetly.

"I don't."—Tit-Bits.
